This collection is about a woman trying to find herself on the open road by running away from her home and her depression. Engaging in selfdestructive acts like prostitution, doing drugs or drinking alcohol, she is also running away from herself. Though she is aware of the harmfulness of her behaviour, she is happier than ever because she finally found real freedom. Whether being a sexy partygirl at night or hitchhiking from dirty motels to gas stations, she finally finds her true self in this road adventure.
